Specialist Service to the ATA - Customs Duty Recovery Service Overview:

Over the last 10 years there have been many thousands of "Tariff Concessions" (T/C's) approved by Australian Customs, which allow products covered by those T/C's to be imported duty free. Many of these tariffs relate to the toy and sporting goods sector however because researching and identifying the correct T/C is time consuming many of the major customs brokers do not give this the right care and attention and very often importers pay customs duty without realising that their goods can be imported duty free. Australian Customs allow for over paid duty to be recovered going back 4 years.

CCG provide a service whereby we help recover overpaid customs duty. CCG are experts in this and it is hugely beneficial to importers. The key points about our service are:

- There is little work required from the importer as CCG obtain all the import data direct from Australian Customs.
- There is no cost whatsoever to the importer if there is no overpayments identified. CCG only share the duty recovered.
- At the end of each Customs Duty Recovery audit CCG provides the client with all correct tariff classifications, which will also assist the importer with reducing costs on future shipments.
- This service in no way affects the importers current shipments, nor the relationship with their appointed customs broker. The CCG Customs Duty Recover Service only relates to past shipments.
